

Books being my constant solace along all the roads traveled

And newly traveled roads and give the courage t

The more I fly high,
the more I unfurl my previously traveled
roads and realize the importance of being connected with my roots

Paris:
Oh, what a beauty it is!

Switzerland:
Humongous mountains
covered with a green
blanket, river gushing
through the stones

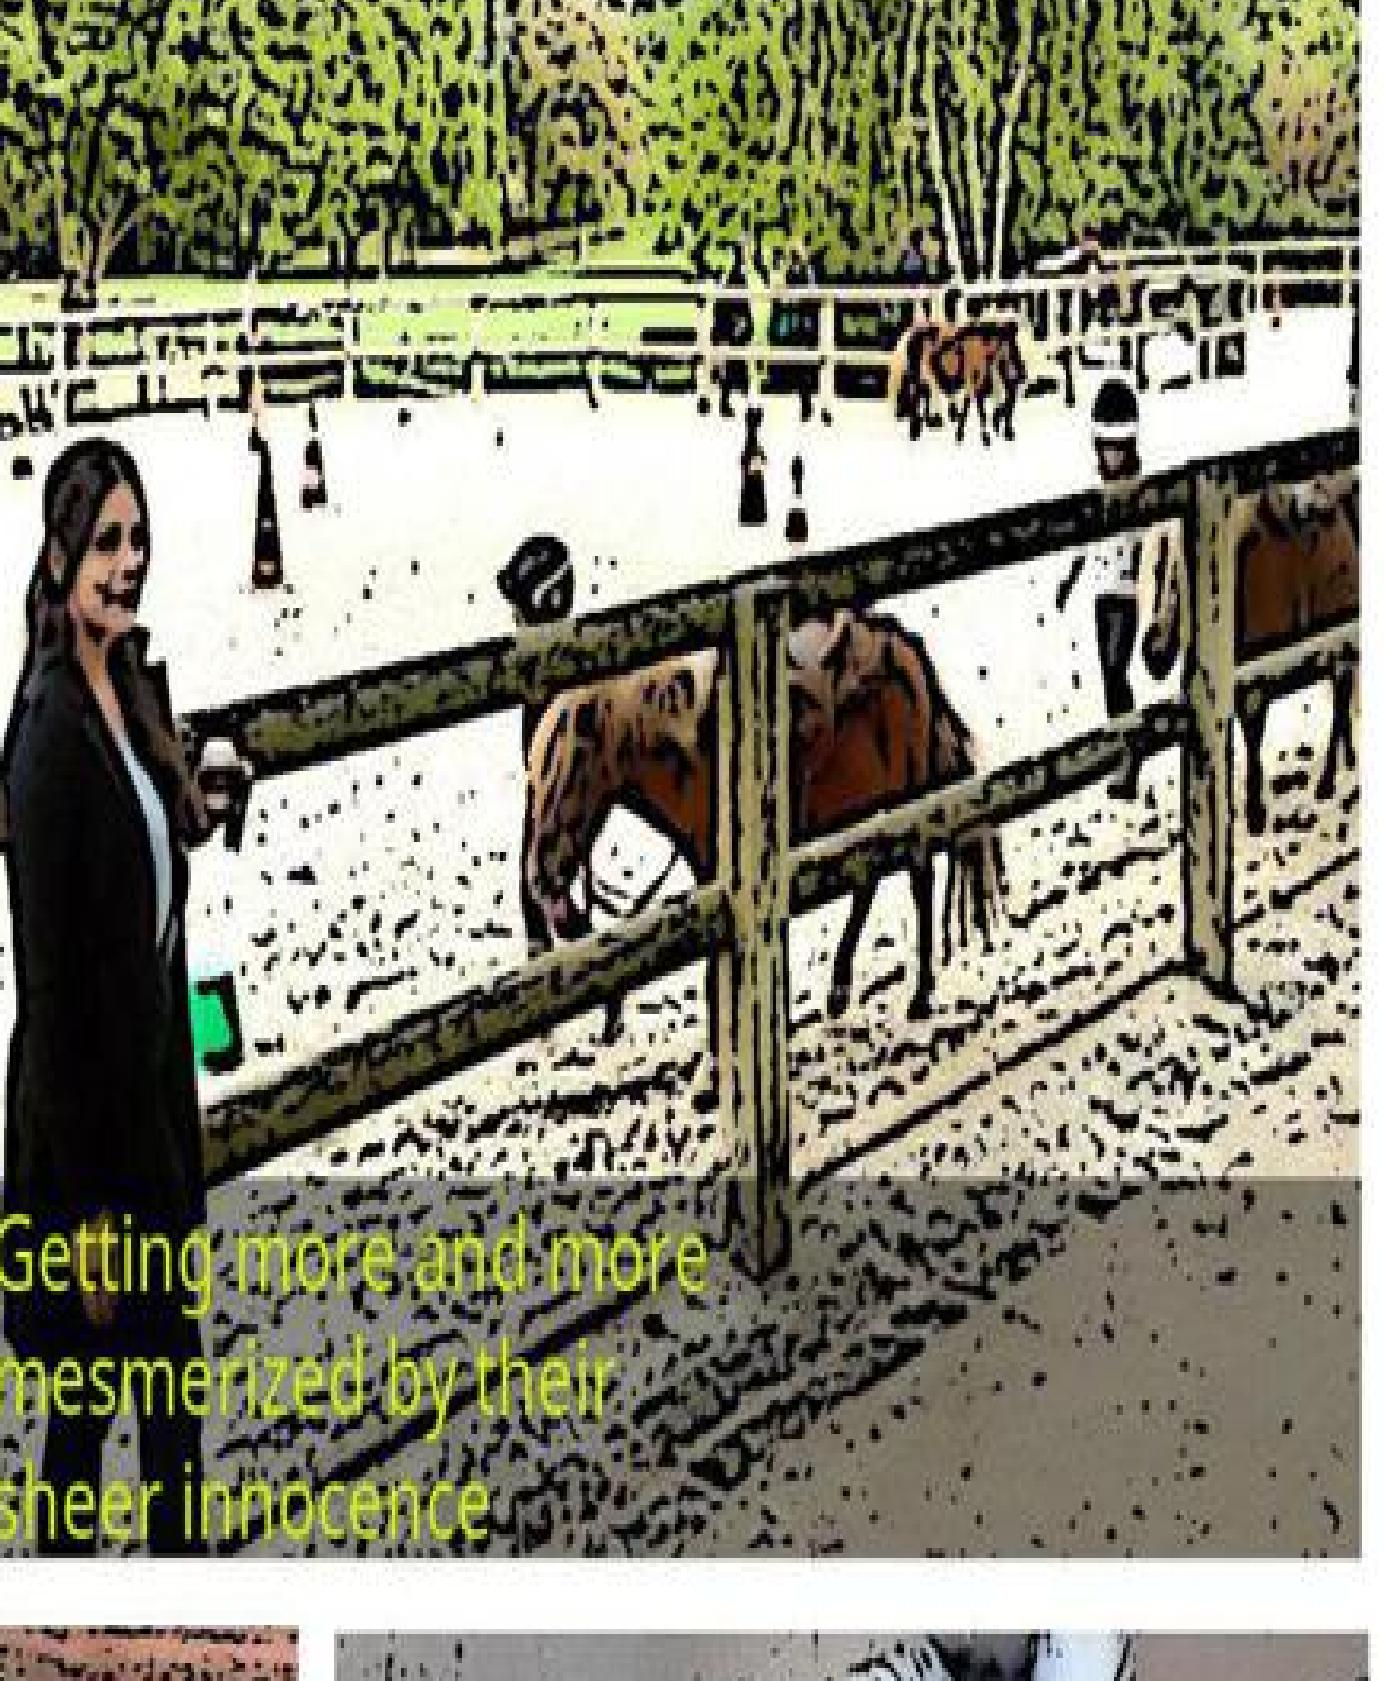

Italy:
Mindful mornings,
Coffee being my elixir
while reminiscing the beauty that this world beholds!

France:
Exploring the less
traveled roads and getting to know about the French culture

While hoping onto my another solace-
my love for animals

Getting more and more mesmerized by their sheer innocence

Helped me find an answer to the most

unanswered question
of anyone's life!

Helping stray animals
lead a better life in India is one thing I could totally resonate with

Not feeling lost anymore, I found my eternal
happiness.

That feeling of being able to make a difference in someone's life and saving that life is unexplainable.

That happiness is not superficial but everlasting!

Yet another day,
yet another stroke of my paintbrush, I start my day with a fresh dose of positivity.

Resolve to be the sky and not the sun!!!